Congress Asset began conducting business in 1985. The Firm is owned by Lagan Holding Company Trust and Lagan-Congress, Inc., who serve as general partners. Lagan Holding Company Trust owns 100% of Lagan-Congress, Inc.

Types of Advisory Services:

The Firm also provides socially responsible investing (“SRI”) and environmental, social and governance (“ESG”) versions in certain equity strategies. Lastly, the Firm provides customized private equity services, for institutional investors only. In addition, Congress Asset offers access to portfolio strategy, asset allocation, and portfolio construction advice to current and prospective institutional Clients. Such breadth enables Congress Asset to construct portfolios consistent with each Client’s objectives and risk tolerances.

Congress Asset’s investment strategies available to Clients include:

- Large Cap Growth Equity
- Mid-Cap Growth Equity
- Small Cap Growth Equity
- Dividend Growth Equity
- Multi-Cap Growth Equity
- SMID Core Opportunity
- SMid Cap Growth Equity
- Small Cap Value Equity

- Fixed Income
- Private Equity

Separately Managed Accounts (“SMA”)

The Firm provides continuous investment advice to individual and institutional Client SMAs. Each Client SMA is managed based on the Client’s immediate and longer-term needs and goals. We also work with each Client, and/or their financial advisor or consultant, to identify his or her time horizon, risk tolerance, tax considerations and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also consider a Client’s prior investment experience, as well as other background information to help us construct the most appropriate investment portfolio. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors. Such reasons may be for personal, religious and statutory purposes.

Client portfolios will generally include advice regarding the following securities: exchange-listed securities, securities traded over-the-counter, exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”), corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper), commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, mutual fund shares, United States Government securities, warrants, option contracts on securities and private equity limited partnership interests (for institutions only).

Advisory Services to Wrap Sponsors

Discretionary portfolio management is also made available to Wrap Sponsors pursuant to a sub-advisory agreement with the Firm, where the Firm will manage all or a portion of the Wrap Sponsor’s Clients’ investment portfolios. Wrap Sponsors typically charge their Clients an all-inclusive “wrap fee” from which the investment advisor is paid a portion of such fee. In addition, most Wrap Sponsors will require Congress Asset to direct brokerage on trades made by the Firm on behalf of their wrap clients to their designated broker-dealer.

Each Wrap Sponsor is required to deliver to the wrap fee clients a wrap fee program Brochure and a copy of Congress Asset's most recent Form ADV Part 2A, pursuant to the requirements of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ("Adviser Act"). A list of each Wrap Sponsor and their corresponding Wrap Program may be found in Congress Asset's ADV, Part 1, Schedule D, Section 5.I. (2).

Congress Asset may terminate its services to one or more of its Clients under the agreement for any reason, or for no reason, upon at least 30 days of prior notice.

Mutual Fund Portfolio Management

Congress Asset provides discretionary investment management and related services to mutual funds (i.e., open-end investment companies registered under the 1940 Act). These funds are: The Congress Large Cap Growth Fund, the Congress Mid Cap Growth Fund, the Congress Small Cap Growth Fund (the "Congress Funds"). Each Congress Fund is a Series of the Professionally Managed Portfolio Trust (SEC File Number 811-05037)

Interested investors should refer to the Congress Fund's Prospectus and Statement of Additional Information ("SAI") for important information regarding objectives, investments, time-horizon, risks, fees, and additional disclosures. These documents are available on-line at: <http://www.congressasset.com/funds/>. Prior to making any investment in the Congress Funds, investors and prospective investors should carefully review these documents for a comprehensive understanding of the terms and conditions applicable for investment in the Congress Funds.

Sub Advisory to SEC Registered Investment Companies

Congress Asset provides investment sub-advisory services for the mid cap growth portion of the Liberty All-Star Growth Fund, a closed-end fund registered under the 1940 Act, and traded on the New York Stock Exchange (Ticker: ASG). Congress is also a sub advisor to the JNL Multi-Manager Small Cap Value Fund.

Sub-Advisory Arrangements with Affiliates

Congress Asset also serves as sub-adviser to its registered adviser affiliate, Congress Wealth Management, LLC ("Congress Wealth"), (CRD No. 149446; SEC No. 801-69988) . In its capacity as sub-adviser to Congress Wealth, the Firm provides portfolio management, trading, and operational support. Please refer to "Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations", Item 10 of this Brochure, for more information regarding the Firm's relationship with Congress Wealth.

Model Portfolio Management:

Congress Asset provides model portfolio management services, for most of its investment strategies, to institutional Clients, primarily financial intermediaries of Unified Managed Account ("UMA") programs (each a "Model Portfolio Client"). Congress Asset will provide to each Model Portfolio Client an initial model of portfolio securities with recommended weightings, and communicate each subsequent model change to the Model Portfolio Client. In turn, each UMA Sponsor is responsible for accepting, rejecting or modifying each change to the model portfolio, and for placing trade orders and executing orders for their Clients' accounts.

Private Equity

Congress Asset provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment management services to pension and other institutions that invest in limited partnerships. Investment in these types of securities may involve certain additional degrees of risk and will only be recommended to institutional Clients and only when consistent with the Client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

Other Advisory Services

Congress Asset also offers access to portfolio strategy, asset allocation, and construction advice ("Portfolio Construction Services") to its current and prospective institutional Clients. Such service may be included as part of the investment management agreement or as part of a distribution/referral or custody agreement. The Firm may also provide this service as a standalone arrangement. Fees for such services are generally based on a percentage of the institutional Client's assets under management. The Advisor at its discretion may also waive fees altogether.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Investment Advisory Fees

Overview

Congress Asset typically charges an investment advisory fee based on a percentage of the assets under its management. Fees are calculated on either a monthly or quarterly basis, and may be payable either in advance based on the value of the account as of the beginning of each billing period, or in arrears based on the value of the account at the end of each billing period. The account management fee is prorated for periods less than a full billing cycle.

Congress Asset may, but generally does not, enter into performance based fee arrangements. All fee arrangements, terms and conditions of the fee structure will be mutually agreed upon prior to entering into an Investment Management Agreement. See Item 6 for more information on performance based fees.

Congress Asset retains the discretion to negotiate alternative fees on a Client-by-Client basis. Client facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include but are not limited to: complexity of the Client, amount of assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets, assets under management in related accounts, complexity of Client specific guidelines and restrictions and special reporting/client service requirements. Each Client's fee is agreed to in writing within the investment management contract.

The Firm may group certain related Client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size requirements and determining the annualized fee. Discounts may be offered to family members and friends or associated persons of the Firm.

Discretionary Portfolio Management

Congress Asset's annual fees for Discretionary Portfolio Management Services are based upon a percentage of assets under management and generally range from 0.10% to 1.00%. The investment advisory fees are negotiable and differ from one Client to another based on certain criteria such as: amount of assets, client type, style, portfolio customization, operational requirements and other factors discussed above.

Mutual Fund Portfolio Management

The annualized fee for each Congress Fund Portfolio Management services is charged as a percentage of assets under management. Management fees are accrued daily and paid monthly, in arrears. The Firm may also waive or defer all or a portion its advisory fee based upon an agreement with the mutual fund to limit a fund's overall expense ratio. Below is the fee schedule to the Congress Funds.

Fund Name	Management Fee
Congress Large Cap Growth Fund	0.50% per annum
Congress Mid Cap Growth Fund	0.60% per annum
Congress Small Cap Growth Fund	0.85% per annum

Sub Advisory to Mutual Funds

Congress Asset is a provider of sub advisory services to mutual fund advisors. Fees for this service are negotiable.

Sub Advisory to Affiliates

Congress Asset also serves as sub-adviser to its registered adviser affiliate, Congress Wealth. The sub-advisory agreement provides for investment management and related trading and operational support.

In its capacity as sub-adviser to Congress Wealth, the Firm acts as investment manager to certain Congress Wealth Clients who wish to solely contract with Congress Wealth, rather than contracting directly with Congress Asset. Congress Wealth pays the Firm a percentage of the advisory fee it collects.

Model Portfolio Management

Congress Asset's annual fees for Model Portfolio Management Services are based upon a percentage of assets under management and generally range from 0.20% to 0.50%. The annualized fee for Model Portfolio Management Services is charged as a percentage of assets under management as negotiated with each Client, typically a financial intermediary sponsor to a UMA program.

A minimum of $100,000 of assets under management is required for this service. This account size may be negotiable under certain circumstances. Congress Asset may group certain related Client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size and determining the annualized fee.

Private Equity

Congress Asset assesses an annualized fee of up to 0.50% on a Client investment in private equity limited partnership. For the first two years of each investment, the fee is applied to total commitments made by the Client. Thereafter, the fee is applied to the amount of the Client's invested capital in each partnership. In certain cases, the Firm may enter into a flat fee arrangement, if appropriate to both the Client and Congress Asset.

Termination of the Advisory Relationship

A Client agreement may be canceled by either party at any time and for any reason upon receipt of 30 days written notice. As disclosed above, certain fees are paid in advance of services provided. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid and/or unearned fees will be promptly refunded/collected. In calculating a Client's reimbursement of fees, we will pro rate the reimbursement according to the number of days remaining in the billing period.

Other Fees

Additional Fees and Expenses

Clients are also subject to fees and expenses charged by custodians and broker dealers for services such as safekeeping, brokerage and administration of their account. In addition, Clients who were referred to Congress by another investment adviser may be subject to advisory fees separate and apart from those of Congress Asset.

Mutual Fund and ETF Fees

Under certain other circumstances, Congress Asset may invest all or a portion of a Client's assets in mutual funds and/or ETFs. Fees paid to Congress Asset for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by such funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, a distribution fee and charges for fund operating expenses. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a Client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge.

In cases where a Client of Congress Asset is invested in a Congress Fund, the Congress Asset advisory fee will be waived relating to the amount of assets invested in the Congress Fund.

ERISA Accounts

Congress Asset is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory Clients that are employee benefit plans or individual retirement accounts ("IRAs") pursuant to ERISA, and regulations under the Internal Revenue Code. As such, Congress Asset is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation. Congress Asset may only charge fees for investment advice about products for which it and/or its related persons do not receive any commissions or 12b-1 fees, or conversely, when such fees are used to offset Congress Asset's advisory fees.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Performance Based Fees

Congress Asset may, but generally does not, enter into performance based fee arrangements with its Clients. In such cases, fee arrangements will be based on a percentage of assets under management plus a percentage of the difference between the performance of the Client's account and that of a mutually agreed upon index.

Side by-side Management

The Firm recognizes that managing Client accounts with different fee arrangement may create conflicts where an account with a higher fee or a performance based fee may receive allocations of certain investment opportunities over another Client accounts. The Firm believes that opportunities for such conflict are mitigated by the high level of liquidity for comparable securities among all its Clients and the Firm's policies and procedures with regard to trading, Code of Ethics and account review process.

Item 7 Types of Clients

As discussed above in Item 4, Congress Asset provides discretionary and model portfolio investment management services to individual and institutional Clients. Clients include charitable organizations, pension and profit sharing plans (including plans subject to the Taft-Hartley Act), state and municipal government entities, taxable and tax-exempt institutions, high net worth individuals and commingled investment vehicles such as mutual funds. Congress Asset also provides these services in the capacity of a sub-adviser and through SMA wrap accounts and UMA program sponsored by other investment advisers or broker-dealers.

Generally, a minimum of $100,000 of assets under management is required for this service. This account size may be negotiable under certain circumstances. Congress Asset may group certain related Client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size and determining the annualized fee.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Overview - Equities

Congress Asset employs a view that superior long-term performance of a company's stock price is a result of consistent earnings growth and cash flow. Stock selection is primarily based on a research-driven bottom up approach, and implemented using a congressional approach, where each investment strategy is governed by an investment product committee ("IPC"). The IPC is where research and recommendations are reviewed, debated and decided upon. Each Congress Asset IPC contains at least one member who also is a member of the Firm's Investment Oversight Committee ("IOC"). The IOC is responsible for oversight of all investment activity and for the Firm's general investment policies.

Congress Asset uses many research techniques which may be summarized as follows:

Idea Generation: Congress Asset exercises continuous and proactive idea generation. Portfolio managers and research analysts identify possible investment opportunities through fundamental analysis and using numerous tools, such as quantitative screening, third-party research reports, periodicals, news articles, direct company meetings, press releases, industry conferences and any other useful and reliable information sources. The best ideas move forward to the analysis stage.

Fundamental Analysis: The Firm performs its own analysis of the companies identified as having the most compelling investment opportunity. The teams validate key quantitative metrics such as earnings growth, cash flows and balance sheet strength and other key factors such as competitive advantages, market leadership, stability of revenue stream, product development and pricing power. The teams also assess the relevant external conditions of the economic and industry sectors related to each company, and the management of each company. The decision to invest is debated within the IPC on its investment merits, its fit within the investment discipline, and its fit within the current portfolio investment mix.

Overview – Fixed Income

Congress Asset's investment philosophy is to maximize potential return per unit of risk using fundamental and relative valuations that employ a combination of top down and bottom up techniques to deliver a consistent pattern of relative returns with minimal periods of underperformance. The Fixed Income IPC is the decision maker for all fixed income activity. The committee is also the central coordinating body that sets, implements, and supervises our screening process and investment policy. The Fixed Income IPC sets the sector allocation weights, duration targets, and reviews credit analysis performed by analysts and portfolio managers. The Fixed income IPC contains at least one member from the IOC.

Top Down analysis: This can include identifying global and domestic trends (i.e., fiscal policy, monetary policy, fund flows, etc.), anticipating future yield curve shape and position, determining which sectors to overweight and underweight via spread analysis, and identifying undervalued or overvalued securities.

Bottom Up analysis: A multistep process that can include identifying attractive issuers through proprietary screening tools, identifying mispriced securities through daily evaluation of broker runs, selecting individual securities for possible investment and processing potential through a break-even analysis, and comparative analysis of security versus security purchase and sale.

Additional research techniques may be utilized (depending on the asset class being evaluated) and can be summarized as follows:

Quantitative Screening: Each fixed income product has its own universe of securities in which it may invest. The universe is screened and reduced based primarily on security indicative features which can include, but are not limited to, maturity date, issuance size, credit ratings, market of issue, and other bond-specific features.

Fundamental Analysis: The Firm's portfolio managers and research team performs its own analysis of existing and potential issuers using our proprietary fundamental model. We seek to ensure proper payment of interest and principal by assessing the overall financial health of issuers using a variety of metrics as well as peer-based analyses.

Investment Strategies

Congress Asset professionals considers themselves investors and not traders. The Firm typically acquires a security with the intent holding it as a long-term investment. However, circumstances may arise where it is in the best interest of the Firm's Clients to sell sooner than expected. For example, a run-up in a securities price to a level higher than our analysis supports may cause us to exit or trim that position. Conversely, an unforeseen event, either internal or external to the securities issuer, may also cause us to exit or trim the position.

Congress Asset employs various investment strategies based on the objectives and risk appetite its Clients. Client portfolios with similar investment mandates, strategies and guidelines are generally managed similarly. Long term (securities held for at least one year), short term (securities sold within one year), trading (securities sold within thirty days) and option strategies, including option writing, may all be used if permitted by the applicable Client's investment guidelines. The Firm may also borrow securities in connection with short sales, borrow money to invest in additional portfolio securities or engage in transactions in futures contracts for some Clients. Congress Asset may also provide asset allocation services to certain Clients, on either a discretionary or non-discretionary basis, with periodic rebalancing.

In employing investment strategies, Congress Asset may use certain strategies in an attempt to “hedge” or “neutralize” various risks associated with positions in a Client’s portfolio. The instruments used to engage in these hedging strategies may include derivative instruments, such as options, warrants, interest rate swaps, interest rate caps and other derivative securities. The Firm’s attempts to partially or fully hedge a portfolio may not be successful and may cause the portfolio to incur a loss.

Upon request and after discussion and agreement with the Client, the Firm will incorporate environmental, social and governance factors into its fundamental analysis to help identify risks and opportunities and to the extent that they are material to investment performance. In addition, the Firm will also employ certain socially conscious screens upon specific request and direction from our Clients.

Risk of Loss

Securities investments are not guaranteed and you may lose money on your investments. Each investment style or strategy will carry with it different levels of risk. Our investment styles and strategies can be matched with each Client’s unique combination of desired returns, investment objectives, cash flow needs, and personal risk tolerance to determine the most suitable investments.

All investments in securities involve risk. It is possible that a Client’s investment objectives will not be achieved or that a Client will lose all or a portion of their investments. The risks all investors face include the following:

Market Risk: All securities investments are subject to changes in the market place. At times, movements in the market can be significant, which will cause the value of an investor’s account to change. For example, in 2008 the markets experienced significant broad-based decreases, due in part to a wide spread credit crisis and significantly negatively impacted investors’ portfolios.

Investment Selection Risk: Congress Asset’s analysis of an investment may be incorrect and may result in selections of investments that suffer losses or underperformance relative to other investments.

Credit Risk: The issuer of a fixed-income security could default on its obligation to pay principal and/or interest or its credit rating could be downgraded, resulting in loss of part or all such security or result in such security becoming illiquid for some period of time.

Liquidity Risk: Market dynamics can change over time, which may reduce the availability of certain securities for purchase or sale. Such a lack of liquidity may impact the marketability of a security, meaning that it may not be purchased or sold without negatively impacting its price.

Interest Rate Risk: As interest rates rise, the value of fixed-income securities is likely to decrease. Securities with longer durations tend to be more sensitive to changes in interest rates, and are usually more volatile than securities with shorter durations. In a rising interest rate environment a Client’s fixed income portfolio may lose value.

Investment Model Allocation Risk: With regard to its Strategic Satellite Assets, Congress Asset’s strategic allocation assumptions and decisions regarding cash balances, may be incorrect and may result in underperformance relative to other investments.

Client Imposed Investment Restrictions Risk: Clients who place restrictions on Congress Asset from investing in certain industries or specific companies for social, religious, statutory or other reasons, may result in Congress Asset forgoing investment opportunities which are in the best economic interest of the Client. Such restrictions may result in performance less favorable than other Client accounts managed by the Firm without such restrictions. Further, Clients may impose proxy voting requirements which may cause Congress Asset to vote in a manner not in the best economic interest of its Clients.

Risks for all forms of analysis: While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information. Information which the Firm gathers and in-part depends upon to be accurate and unbiased includes, but is not limited to: corporate annual reports, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), company press releases, research material reported by others, financial newspapers and magazines, corporate ratings/analytical services, government reports, etc.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

Congress Asset is required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a Client's or prospective Client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

The Firm and the management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

The Related Companies and their employees may also recommend the advisory services of Congress Asset to their Clients. The services provided by the Related Companies and the related compensation they may receive from Clients are separate and distinct from the advisory services provided by and fees paid to Congress Asset. No Congress Asset Client is obligated to use the services of any of the Related Companies.

To address these potential conflicts the Firm and its affiliated investment adviser have taken the following actions:

- Executive management of Congress Asset and Congress Wealth, including their respective chief compliance officers maintain frequent and open communication which facilitates identification, analysis and remediation of real and perceived conflicts;

The Firm's Code of Ethics includes policies and procedures for the review of quarterly securities transactions reports as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by each of the Firm's access persons. Among other things, our Code of Ethics also requires the prior approval of any acquisition of securities in a limited offering (e.g., private placement) or an initial public offering. Our code also provides for oversight, enforcement and recordkeeping provisions.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available to our advisory Clients and prospective clients. You may request a copy by email sent to info@congressasset.com, or by calling us at 617-737-1566.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

General

The Firm has the responsibility to effect orders correctly, promptly and in the best interests of its Clients. Congress Asset has the duty to treat all its Clients fairly, endeavoring that, over time, no Client is advantaged or disadvantaged compared to other Clients. In the event a trade error occurs in the handling of any Client transactions due to the Firm's actions, or inaction, or actions of others, Congress Asset will seek to identify and correct any errors as promptly as possible without disadvantaging the Client or benefiting the Firm.

Congress Asset recognizes that brokerage is the property of the Clients, and as such, is to be allocated to broker-dealers in a manner that serves the interests of its Clients. It also recognizes an ongoing duty to seek to obtain best execution. While the Firm endeavors to obtain the best combination of price and execution for its Clients, "best execution" does not necessarily mean it will pay the lowest commission or spread.

The Firm also seeks competitively priced brokerage services where the broker-dealer can provide value-added, company-specific, and thematic industry research, including meetings with management and conferences. Additional factors in selecting a broker-dealer include, but are not limited to: quality of investment research; liquidity of the market in a security; financial stability of the broker-dealer; promptness of execution; quality of settlement; the broker's ability to handle a desired block; and efficiency in clearing and settling trades.

Research and Soft Dollars

Congress Asset may use brokers who provide useful research and securities transaction services even though a lower commission may be charged by a broker who offers no research services and minimal securities transaction assistance. Some research services may be useful in servicing all our Clients while some research may be useful for only certain Client accounts.

Congress Asset's investment professionals periodically review the quality of research provided by brokers. The review is coordinated by the Director of Research and results in a 'research vote' which is presented to the Firm's Best Execution Committee for review. Consideration for retaining or replacing brokers occurs at this meeting.

Consistent with obtaining best execution for Clients, Congress Asset may direct brokerage transactions for Clients' portfolios to brokers who provide third-party research and execution services to Congress Asset and, indirectly, to Congress Asset's Clients. These services, which are eligible pursuant to Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Section 28(e)") are designed to augment the Firm's internal research and investment strategy capabilities. The Firm believes that the acquisition of such research through soft dollars is in the long-term benefit to all its Clients.

Congress Asset recognizes that when using Client brokerage commissions to obtain research or brokerage services, it receives a benefit to the extent that Congress Asset does not have to produce such products internally or compensate third-parties with its own money for the delivery of such services. Therefore, such use of Client brokerage commissions results in a conflict of interest, because Congress Asset has an incentive to direct Client brokerage to those brokers who provide research and services, even if such brokers do not offer the best price or commission rates for our Clients. Further, broker-dealers selected may be paid commissions for effecting transactions for our Clients that exceed the amounts other broker-dealers would have charged for effecting the same transactions. However, Congress Asset endeavors to determine in good faith that such amounts are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and/or research services provided by those broker-dealers.

Certain items obtainable with soft dollars may not be used exclusively for either execution or research services. In such cases, the cost of such "mixed-use" products or services will be fairly allocated and Congress Asset makes a good faith effort to determine the percentage of such products or services which may be considered as investment research. The portions of the costs attributable to non-research usage of such products or services are paid by the Firm to the broker-dealer in accordance with the provisions of Section 28(e).

Congress Asset uses products and services including investment recommendations, investment research, and financial publications providing corporate financial data, financial statistical data, economic data and forecasts, and systems for arranging and assimilating data.

Congress Asset's Soft Dollar Committee conducts periodic soft-dollar reviews, analyzing price and commissions offered by the various brokers used and volume of Client commissions directed to each broker. Moreover, we perform a qualitative ranking of all brokers used by polling our trading staff, research analysts, and portfolio managers.

Order Allocation Trade Aggregation

When decisions are made to buy or sell the same security simultaneously for a number of accounts, Congress Asset may aggregate the purchase or sale into a single trade order (a “bundled” trade) if it deems this to be appropriate and in the best interests of the accounts involved. Bundle trading may allow us to execute trades in a timely, and equitable manner, at the same average share price or spread for each Client account. Congress Asset will typically aggregate trades among Clients whose accounts can be traded at a given broker.

Congress Asset's policy prohibits any allocation of trades in a manner that favors one type of Client account over another. In addition to executing bundled trades, as described above, Congress Asset will also rotate the trading order of its discretionary and directed groupings, in cases where a portfolio model change is required. As a model change in a given investment strategy impacts all Clients in that investment strategy, the Firm feels it necessary to rotate the order of Client groupings to ensure equitable trading over time. Generally, UMA are excluded from the trade rotation and are traded following completion of the rotation.

Directed Brokerage

Some Clients designate a particular broker or dealer through which trades are to be made (“directed trades”). In addition, wrap-fee arrangements generally require Congress Asset to direct all brokerage transactions to the sponsoring broker-dealer. Where a Client directs trades, Congress Asset may not be able to negotiate commission rates or spreads and is not able to obtain the same execution it receives for other Clients. This means that directed-trade Clients may receive worse prices than Clients who delegate trading responsibility to Congress Asset. Additionally, Clients who direct trades to a particular broker or dealer often pay higher commissions, greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices than they would if Congress Asset were able to select brokers or dealers.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

Brokers that the Firm selects to execute transactions may from time to time may refer Clients to the Firm. Congress Asset will not make commitments to any broker or dealer to compensate that broker or dealer through brokerage or dealer transactions for Client referrals; however, a potential conflict of interest may arise between the Client's interest in obtaining best price and execution and Congress Asset's interest in receiving future referrals.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

General

Congress Asset portfolio managers continually review Client accounts to ensure they are managed to meet the Clients goals, risk tolerances, liquidity needs and other stated objectives and constraints. Clients and/or their appointed agents are provided quarterly portfolio account appraisals for their review and comparison to other statements they may receive from broker dealers, custodians, trust companies, etc.

Review of Separately Managed Accounts (“SMA”)

Underlying securities of each Client SMA are continually monitored. Generally, account reviews are held semi-annually by the Account Review Committee. Additional account reviews may be held due to market events, disruptions or trends. Client accounts are reviewed in the context of Congress Asset's model portfolios, approved lists, cash holding and each Client's stated investment objectives and guidelines.

Account Review Committee meetings are attended by Client portfolio managers, members of the IOC and compliance.

Review of Wrap and UMA Accounts

Underlying securities in SMA and UMA Wrap Accounts are continually monitored. Formal account reviews are held, generally, semi-annually by the Wrap Account Review Committee. Additional account reviews may be held due to market events, disruptions or trends. Client accounts are reviewed in the context of Congress Asset's model portfolios, approved lists, cash holding and each Client's stated investment objectives and guidelines. Service levels of Wrap Account sponsors and trading platforms are also reviewed.

Wrap Account Review Committee meetings are attended by Wrap Client portfolio managers, a member of the IOC, Operations and compliance.

Review of Mutual Funds

Congress Asset continually reviews and monitors each mutual fund for which it is the advisor or sub-advisor, in accordance with the 1940 Act, the policies and procedures adopted by each mutual fund's board of directors/trustees and investment objectives set forth in each mutual fund's Prospectus. The Firm reviews each fund with its board as well as the business of the Firm annually, as required under Section 15c of the Investment Company Act.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

General

Congress Asset may pay referral fees to independent persons or firms ("Solicitors") for introducing Clients to us. Whenever we pay a referral fee, we require the Solicitor to provide the prospective Client with a copy of this document (our Firm Brochure) and a separate disclosure statement that includes the following information:

- The Solicitor's name, Congress Asset's name and the relationship with the Firm;
- The fact that the Solicitor is being paid a referral fee by Congress Asset;
- The terms of the fee paid or to be paid by Congress Asset; and
- Whether the fee paid to Congress Asset by the Client will be increased above Congress Asset's normal fees in order to compensate the Solicitor.

As a matter of Firm practice, the advisory fees paid to us by Clients referred by Solicitors would not increase.

Other Compensation

Congress Asset is advisor to the Congress Funds and compensates certain broker-dealers for sale of the Congress Funds to Clients who purchase the retail classes of the Congress Funds' shares.

Item 15 Custody

Although Congress does not hold assets of its Clients, it may be deemed to have custody of certain Clients' assets pursuant to the SEC's Custody Rule, Rule 206(4)-2 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Client assets are held at qualified custodian(s) of the Client's choosing, who shall provide custody account statements directly to each Client, at least quarterly. Congress urges you, as the Client, to carefully review your account statements from your custodian(s), and compare them carefully with the account statements and related reporting that Congress provides to you. Our reports may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Clients may hire Congress Asset to provide discretionary asset management services, in which case we place trades in a Client's account without contacting the Client prior to each trade to obtain the Client's permission. Our discretionary authority includes the ability to determine the security to buy or sell, and/or determine the amount of the security to buy or sell

Clients give us discretionary authority when they sign an investment management agreement ("IMA") with the Firm. Within the IMA or by separate written instructions, Clients may limit discretionary investment authority and/or place upon the Firm reasonable investment restrictions. Clients may also change or amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

Congress Asset will vote proxies for Client accounts when such authority is granted and the Client's custodian can provide an electronic feed of the Client's proxy information to the Firm's proxy voting service provider. Any Client may choose to vote proxies on their own account.

Congress Asset will vote proxies in the best economic interests of its Clients and in accordance with our established policies and procedures. In the case of ERISA Clients, Congress Asset accepts its fiduciary responsibility to vote proxies in the best interest of plan participants and their beneficiaries.

Congress Asset will retain all proxy voting books and records for the requisite period of time, including a copy of each proxy statement received, a record of each vote cast, a copy of any document created by us that was material to making a decision how to vote proxies, and a copy of each written Client request for information on how the adviser voted proxies. Congress Asset also uses a third-party research firm to assist in the decision making process for proxy voting.

With respect to ERISA accounts, we will vote proxies unless the plan documents specifically reserve the plan sponsor's right to vote proxies.

Clients may instruct us to vote proxies according to particular criteria (for example, to always vote with management, or to vote for or against a proposal to allow a so-called "poison pill" defense against a possible takeover). These requests must be made to Congress Asset in writing. Clients may also instruct us on how to cast their vote in a particular proxy contest by email to info@congressasset.com, or in writing to Congress Asset, 2 Seaport Lane, 5th Floor, Boston, MA 02210.

Clients and prospective Clients should be aware that Congress Asset Management typically follows the recommendation of the AFL-CIO when voting proxies for Taft-Hartley Clients, while at the same time is actively soliciting new business from the Taft-Hartley market. Voting to such recommendations may at times be different from how we vote our other Clients' proxies and in opposition to the interests of such other Clients.

From time to time conflicts may arise with regard to how Congress Asset should vote or abstain a particular proxy vote. Generally, in such cases the Chair of the Congress Asset Proxy Committee and the Chief Compliance Officer will be notified. If a true conflict is identified, a meeting of the Proxy Committee will be called to order to review the conflict and determine how the proxy will be voted.

We will neither advise nor act on behalf of the Client in legal proceedings involving companies whose securities are held in the Client's account(s), including, but not limited to, the filing of "Proofs of Claim" in class action settlements. If desired, Clients may direct us to transmit copies of class action notices to the Client or a third party. Upon such direction, we will make commercially reasonable efforts to forward such notices in a timely manner.

Clients may obtain a copy of our complete proxy voting policies and procedures by contacting Congress Asset by telephone at 617-737-1566, by email to info@congressasset.com, or in writing to Congress Asset 2 Seaport Lane, 5th Floor, Boston, MA 02210. Clients may request, in writing, information on how proxies for his/her shares were voted.

Item 18 Financial Information

As Congress Asset does not require or solicit payment of fees more than $1,200 per Client more than six months in advance of services rendered it is not required to include a financial statement with this Brochure.

Congress Asset is well capitalized with sufficient financial resources to fund continuing operations, growth, and meet all obligations to its Clients. Further, Congress Asset has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.

PROXY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

PROXY POLICIES

Responsibility

Congress Asset Management Company's responsibility as an investment manager and plan fiduciary, as outlined in rule 206(4)-6 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, and the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and subsequent Department of Labor policy statements, includes the duty to vote proxies on behalf of our clients when proxy voting authority has been delegated to us. Congress Asset Management Company accepts its fiduciary responsibility to vote proxies under these circumstances. This statement is intended to set forth those policies and guidelines to be followed in carrying out our responsibility.

General Principles of Voting

Proxy voting rights have been declared by the Department of Labor to be valuable plan assets and therefore must be exercised in accordance with the fiduciary duties of loyalty and prudence. This policy statement has been carefully crafted to meet the requirements of loyalty and prudence and will be employed by the Proxy Committee in its proxy voting procedures and decisions.

The duty of loyalty requires that a voting fiduciary exercise its proxy voting authority solely in the interests of its clients, or plan participants and beneficiaries, and for the exclusive purpose of providing plan benefits to participants and beneficiaries. The voting fiduciary is prohibited from subordinating the interests of participants and beneficiaries to unrelated objectives.

The duty of prudence requires that proxy voting authority be exercised with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence that a similarly situated prudent person knowledgeable in such matters would exercise. Thus, in making proxy voting decisions, Congress Asset Management Company shall seek out information from a variety of sources to determine what is in the long term economic best interest of its clients, plan participants, and beneficiaries prior to making a proxy voting decision. In keeping with its fiduciary responsibilities, Congress Asset Management Company will vote proxies in accordance with the "economic best interests" of its clients, plan participants and beneficiaries. Congress Asset Management Company will consider the long-term impact of business plans on all affected parties including shareholders, debt holders, employees, retired workers, and communities in which the firm operates.

Decisions Free of Outside Influence

Generally, Congress Asset Management Company will vote on the recommendation of the issuer's management. However, Congress shall take into consideration the general positions of trustees and other fiduciaries in deciding how to vote proxies. Congress Asset Management Company currently utilizes the services of Broadridge Investor Communications, an independent provider of proxy voting services. Such services may include voting execution, comprehensive reporting, and supporting justification. However, any influence imposed upon us by a person or persons who have a direct personal or financial interest in the outcome will be rejected as a violation of ERISA and our moral obligation to plan participants, and clients. On contested issues the guiding principle shall be the long term "economic best interests" of all affected parties. The interest of any one group shall not dominate the decision to the detriment of other affected parties.

Clients and prospective clients should be aware that Congress Asset Management typically follows the recommendation of the AFL-CIO when voting proxies for Taft-Hartley clients, while at the same time is actively soliciting new business from the Taft-Hartley market. Voting to such recommendations may at times be different from how we vote our other clients' proxies and in opposition to the interests of such other clients.

Congress Asset Management at the direction of a client's Investment Policy statement has the ability to direct proxy voting decisions to a 3rd party proxy advice vendor. These voting recommendations may at times be different from how we vote other clients' proxies and in opposition to the interests of such other clients.

PROXY PROCEDURES

Proxy Committee

The Proxy committee shall have responsibility for setting the proxy voting policy at Congress Asset Management Company. Proxies will be voted in the economic best interest of each individual client, ERISA plan participant, and beneficiaries. The Proxy Committee will use all available resources to help in evaluating proxy issues, and setting policies that are appropriate for each client. Congress Asset Management Company has an agreement with Broadridge Investor Communications to provide integrated third-party research and electronic, automated, rules based voting capabilities via the Broadridge ProxyEdge service for each individual proxy.

In the event of a vote that falls outside of the standard proxy voting rules for Congress Asset Management Company, the Proxy Committee will meet to review a specific vote. When the Proxy Committee reaches a decision concerning the proxy vote in question, Broadridge ProxyEdge shall be instructed to vote accordingly and no further action shall be required. A simple majority of the Proxy Committee shall be required for a final ruling on proxy issues.

Record Keeping

- 1) Proxy Committee minutes and meeting material including the basis for any voting decision including whether the advice of any individual outside of the organization was acted upon.
- 2) Records will be maintained detailing how proxies were voted and for which accounts they were voted.

Records of proxy voting will be made available to Clients and ERISA Plan Sponsors upon a written request by email to proxies@congressasset.com or by mail to Congress Asset Management Company, 2 Seaport Lane, 5th Floor, Boston, MA 02210.

PROXY COMMITTEE:

Daniel A. Lagan

Gregg A. O'Keefe
